SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

The first folder contains a legal protest against non-payment of promissory note made to O.B. Stout by Pettit, Braden and Company of Indianapolis. It is dated 6 April 1871 and stamped by public notary. Pettit, Braden and Company was a small private banking company in Indianapolis owned by William Pettit, A.H. Pettit, and James Braden, in the early 1870s.

The second folder contains materials relating to trip to England taken by Jeanne G. Woodruff of Huntington, Indiana, in 1930. Most of the papers are receipts. The folder also includes a receipt from Indiana Bureau of Motor Vehicles for application fee for an operator's license.

This donation also contains three firefighter decals from the mid-1950s.
