BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

Emma Lee Chester, nee Devine, was born in Starkville, Mississippi on November 8, 1942. The oldest of Aron and Teadie Devine's ten children has been a resident of Indianapolis since 1972. She married Elder E. Chester, a minister and a teacher. Emma Chester received her bachelor of arts degree from Mississippi State University in 1970. In 1978, she graduated from Indiana University at Indianapolis with her master of science diploma. Chester has also attended Los Angeles City College, Jackson State University, and Los Angeles Trade-Technical College. In 1972, Emma Chester became a teacher for the Indianapolis Public Schools, a position she still holds today.

She has a long list of honors and awards, including the Mary McLeod Bethune Achievement Award from the National Council of Negro Women, a proclamation from Mayor Hudnut of Indianapolis, and a series of Who's Who biographies (including Who's Who in the Midwest and Who's Who in the World). Chester has been a member of the Foursquare Tabernacle Church of God in Christ since 1971. Her service includes the founding of the Tabernacle's radio ministry in 1981. Emma Chester's community activities are the Urban League, NAACP, Word Women International, Indianapolis Zoological Society, Black History Committee, 15,000 Club (for the needy), National Association of Biology Teachers, Hoosier Association of Science Teachers, and American Biographical Institute Research Association.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

This collection contains the personal papers of Emma Lee Chester. The material was gathered under the auspices of the Black Women in the Middle West project. The papers span a period of time from 1962 to 1985, with a heavy concentration of material from 1984. The collection consists of letters, newspaper clippings, award certificates, poems, church newsletters and programs, and material concerning the Indiana Education Association and the Indiana State Teachers Association. Included in this collection are the papers of Julia Davis, a worker for the Marion County Department of Public Welfare. The collection consists of mainly letters, memoranda, and certificates.

Box 1 has the background information of Emma Lee Chester. Included in this box are letters, awards, and a tape of one of Chester's speeches. There is also material dealing with the National Council of Negro Women and other service organizations. It also contains material from Chester's community and religious activities. There is information of Foursquare Tabernacle Church, including The Foursquare Messenger, the church newsletter. Also in this box are records of her teaching activities and the various educational organizations she belonged to.

Box 2 holds Julia Davis' papers. Included is background information, memoranda, correspondence from 1982 to 1984, awards, and material concerning her religious life.
