SCOPE AND CONTENT

This collection consists of two items, an indenture of 1805 and a hand-written broadside of 1815. The 1805 indenture binds James Smith as apprentice to Samuel Elliott, cooper, for two years. In the 1815 broadside, Samuel Elliott lists for sale the following:

- 100 acres of farm and timber land on the Blackwater River in the south part of Boscawen;
- a house, barn, and orchard on ten acres of land on the road from Corserhill to Warner;
- four good working oxen.

None of the place names in the broadside are found on early maps of Dearborn County, which at this time was larger than its present size. There are several James Smiths in the county histories, but any connection to this James Smith is unclear.
