HISTORICAL SKETCH

The Society of Friends, or Quakers, is a religious sect founded by George Fox in England in 1647. The first Quaker meetings were established in America in the late seventeenth century, and the first meeting was established in Indiana in 1809. During the first half of the nineteenth century, Quakers were among the leading opponents of slavery in the United States.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

This item is a draft copy of an Index to all known Monthly Meetings in North America, compiled by Thomas C. Hill and first revised in 1991. It is designed to assist researchers in Quaker history. Indiana Excerpts are periodically updated with revisions from the author.
