

Company History Compiled For:
Indiana Historical Society

Over the last 112 years, the West End Bank name has stood for a community bank committed to helping provide the financial needs of the citizens of Wayne and Union counties. With humble beginnings as West End Building and Loan Association in 1894, our first office was located in the Eggemeyer Building on the southeast corner of 4th and Main in Richmond, Indiana. Over the course of a century, our company has had the following name and location changes/additions to adapt to changing times and growing business:

BUSINESS BLOCK OF JOHN M. EGGE MEYER.

West End Building & Loan Association
April 1894

West End Federal Savings Bank
West End Savings Bank
West End Bank, S.B.

January 1994
January 2005

From 1897-1906, West End Building and Loan Association was in the Knollenberg Annex. From 1907-1928, we had offices in number 16 of the Odd Fellows Building. During 1929-30, we were located at 6 South Fifth, and from 1931 located at 409 Main. In 1959, we opened at our present location at 34 South 7th Street.

We expanded our business to two neighboring communities; Hagerstown and Liberty Indiana. Our location in Hagerstown was established on January 2, 1963 and our Liberty branch on May 21, 1973. Both are full service financial institutions.

West End Bank, S.B. will be opening a new branch on the east side of Richmond. The branch will be located at 101 South 37 Street. This full service office will feature state of the art drive-through lanes, a drive-through ATM, mortgage, commercial and consumer lending services as well as a wide array of deposit products for our customers. In addition, our new branch will offer a full complement of safety deposit boxes. It is anticipated that the new branch will be completed during the fall of 2006.
